Modular weapon system MWS-25 (SKW .308)

The ZMT MWS-25 (SKW .308) is a modular semi-automatic sniper rifle manufactured in Zakłady Mechaniczne "Tarnów" S.A. It was designed in a specific way to fulfill strict requirements of the contemporary battle field. The rifle features modular construction, ergonomic usage customized for both left-hand and right-hand shooters, adjusted to work with a silencer and a folded butt-stock. The rifle can be offered with barrels of the following lengths: from 13" up to 20" in calibers .308 WIN and 6.5 Creedmoor. The rifle is dedicated both for institutional customers, as well as for sport shooters.

Zakłady Mechaniczne Tarnów

The Semi-automatic Sniper Rifle operates on the basis of discharging gases off through the side vent of the barrel. Short-stroke gas piston – is equipped with adjustable four-stage gas regulator, which ensures that the weapon can work with silencers and suppressors. The construction features double safety levers placed on both sides of the rifle body, magazine release button and the breech-block operating lever. The rifle is characterized by a full interchangeability of its subassemblies and parts, and ergonomics identified with the AR15/HK416 rifles. The barrel of the rifle is easily interchangeable, so the user can easily replace it with any other barrel – of course within the scope of the length and caliber. Gun cradle unit can be offered with the two assembly systems: M-LOK or KeyMod. Depending on set completion the rifles can be equipped with hinged butt, which makes the folding of the butt-stock possible to the right side of the breech casing.
